Since changing owners in 2006, The Macbeth has steadily become known as an East End venue for 'insiders'; a beautiful Victorian pub off the usual beaten track of Shoreditch that hosts some of the best nights in London. The pub has welcomed a huge array of music to its stage, holding secret shows for anyone from Franz Ferdinand to Skream, and inviting some of the finest promoters of underground music to throw a party or two.

The Macbeth are now taking bookings for 2010.
